It operates on a subscription-based model, where participants pay a monthly or annual fee to receive certain legal benefits.

What are benefits of having legal assistance programme?

Legal Assistance Programme can provide a range of benefits, including:

- * Access to legal representation
- * Cost savings
- * Peace of mind
- * Protection against unexpected legal issues
- * Coverage for a variety of legal issues
- * Help navigating the legal system
- * Assistance with document preparation

What Does Legal Assistance Programme DO NOT Cover ?

- Things that happened before you had insurance
- Piracy, theft and intentional crimes
- Fines

If you are already into litigation

If you make 2 expensive claims in less than 12 months, they will often cancel your insurance. They will still pay for those 2 claims, but after that, you are not insured. They will not cancel your insurance because you talked to a lawyer, only for expensive things like going to court. They can even cancel your insurance for no reason, but this rarely happens. In any case, they will cancel the insurance after everything is over, not in the middle of a court case. This is true for all insurers.

- Criminal act
- Dishonest acts
- Fraudulent activities
- Claims involving one policyholder against the other policyholder in the same legal firm
- Claims arising from the situation where the policyholder knew or foreseen the claim at the inception of the policy, however, it failed to inform the insurer
